For some time the Montagu's harrier has been forced to leave its original habitat in swampy lands as these areas are gradually reduced. Today many harrier pairs live in the large, dense expanses of cultivated wheat. Every summer at harvest time, dramatic events occur in these fields. The reapers move steadily along devouring not only the grain but also the nests and small birds unable to fly. The only hope of salvation for the newborn is a late harvest season - or intervention by man. The documentary illustrates the WWF project to save the Montagu's Harrier nests and their precious broods from extinction. In Italy, the entire population amounts to between 150 and 200 pairs.
